<P>Terra operations during the past week were nominal with all instruments operating.</P>

<P>The Flight Operations Team is continuing to support the K-band drop-out anomaly team. The mission continues to experience these drop outs and has to re-dump sections of the Terra solid state recorder.</P>

<P>Two A-log errors occurred with the ASTER instrument. These are presently under investigation. These errors are due to stale data from the instrument. The instrument team has been contacted to support this activity.</P>
